LOCATION

Croydon is London’s largest Borough by population with approximately 382,000 people. The town is one of the largest commercial and financial centres in the South East outside of London, located 10 miles south of central London and 8 miles north of Junction 7 on the M25 motorway.

Croydon has excellent communications as it lies on a unique transport corridor between central London and the south coast of England with the A23 providing direct access to Central London and the national motorway network via the M25.

There are three mainline stations within Croydon (East Croydon, West Croydon and South Croydon), which offer regular services to London Victoria and London Bridge with a fastest journey time of 16 minutes and 13 minutes respectively. This is further supported by 20 bus routes operating to and from Central London and the Croydon Tramlink, which had 32 million passengers last year.

London Gatwick Airport is located approximately 18 miles to the south and London Heathrow Airport is located approximately 25 miles to the north west.
DEMOGRAPHIC PROFILE

The total population within the Croydon primary catchment area is 866,000, above the Regional Centre average and ranking the town 14th out of the 200 PROMIS Centres. The estimated shopping population of Croydon is 448,000, ranking the town 15th out of the PROMIS centres on this measure.

Croydon is projected to see significantly above average growth in both population and the available pool of comparison spend over the period 2016 to 2021. As one of the major shopping centres of south London, Croydon retains a considerable proportion of this spend and also draws additional spending from further afield. (Source: PROMIS)

The age profile of the Croydon primary catchment population includes a particularly high proportion of adults aged 25-44; children aged 0-14 are also over-represented. In contrast, older working age adults aged 45-64 and the retired aged 65 and over are particularly under-represented within the Croydon area. (Source: PROMIS)

In 2011 the Croydon area contained a significantly above average proportion of adults of working age categorised within the most affluent AB social group, social group C1 is also over-represented. In contrast, social group C2 and the least affluent D and E social groups are particularly under-represented within the Croydon area. (Source: CACI)
Retailsing in Croydon

Croydon is one of the leading retail destinations in Greater London. Town centre retail floor space totals approximately 2.6 million sq ft, and the town ranks 14th out of the PROMIS centres in terms of retail floor space. The prime pitch is focused on the pedestrianised North End with key occupiers including:

North End acts as the key interlinking thoroughfare into Croydon’s two principal shopping centres; The Whitgift and Centrale shopping centres, which sit to the east and west of North End, respectively. A number of the principal tenants in these schemes have their primary frontages on North End. The Whitgift Shopping Centre provides over 1.3 million sq ft of retail space and currently has an annual footfall of 28 million people. Key retailers include Marks & Spencer, River Island and H&M. The Centrale Shopping Centre provides 820,000 sq ft of retail space and key tenants include Debenhams, House of Fraser, Zara and H&M.
CROYDON REGENERATION

Westfield and Hammerson have collaborated to develop a new town centre scheme in Croydon, incorporating the Whitgift Centre and Centrale Shopping Centre, to create a mixed use scheme. The £1.4 billion development will include approximately 1.5 million sq ft of retail and leisure as well as a new multi-screen cinema, bowling alley, offices and 600 new homes to be built within 5 residential towers. Consent for the scheme was granted in November 2013 with work on site due to start later this year and completion scheduled for 2021. North End will remain the centre of Croydon’s retail core with both prime entrances of the two schemes to remain on North End.

There are also other significant residential developments planned within the town, such as Saffron Square — a 43 storey residential tower (700 homes) and Ruskin Square — a new joint venture between Stanhope and Schroders, which will consist of 1.25 million sq ft of offices, 625 homes and 100,000 sq ft of retail, restaurants and leisure.

The opening of the second Boxpark in Croydon in summer 2016 has furthered Croydon’s regeneration. After the exceptional success of the first Boxpark in Shoreditch, the new Boxpark is situated adjacent to East Croydon station and comprise 80 small units and approximately 20,000 sq ft of event space. The scheme is comprised of independent businesses, with a particular bias towards food, drinks and entertainment. Demand has been exceptional with the scheme 250% oversubscribed before opening.

We have analysed the passing rents to reflect the following Zone A rates:

82/84 North End  £188.38 Zone A
